

The Massachusetts Apprenticeship Network recognizes there is not a one-size-fits-all model for executing an effective apprenticeship at all companies; that said, there are common elements of apprenticeship shared by participating employers of the network.

An apprenticeship is a job and apprentices are full-time employees of the hiring company, earning wages with access to benefits.

An apprenticeship provides an individual with a pathway to build a career with full-time employment upon completion of the apprenticeship plus step increases in pay.

An apprenticeship is an earn and learn model that combines both structured learning with on-the-job training—many are entry-level with career growth or may also support upskilling for more advanced roles within an organization.

An apprenticeship includes industry-recognized credentials and certificates, when relevant for the occupation, incorporated in the technical and on-the-job training, providing portability and recognition by the occupation/industry.
